

Title: Mission Idea Contest 2

Speaker: Prof. Jyh-Ching Juang
Professor, Department of Electrical Engineering
National Cheng Kung University
Taiwan

Venue: EE building, Room 92820, National Cheng Kung University

Date: 12 March 2012 (Monday)

Time: 17.00 - 18.30 pm

On March 12, 2012, a seminar on Mission Idea Contest was held at National Cheng Kung University, Taiwan. The seminar was attended by about 20 students (undergraduates and graduate students) as well as technical staffs and engineers. Prof. Juang briefly reviewed the significance and history of the nanosatellite development. He then introduced the mission idea contest with the emphasis on the encouragement of attendants to participate the upcoming event.

On November 24, 2011, Prof. Juang was invited by National Space Organization (NSPO), Taiwan to deliver an invited talk on university micro/nanosatellite development. During this occasion, the call for proposals to the second mission idea contest was introduced to an audience of more than 100, constituting of engineers and students.

An MIC regional seminar was held at NCKU, Taiwan on March 12, 2012

The call for proposal on 2nd MIC was announced at HsinChu, Taiwan on November 24, 2011